

Geography Curriculum Intent

Intent
Children at Shirley Warren will develop a curiosity and fascination for the world around them. Children will be taught a breadth of geographical skills which can be related to the wider world, as well as being given the opportunity to gain a deeper understanding of the world's physical and human processes. As children develop their knowledge and skills they will build upon their understanding of all aspects of geography- this will include knowledge of their local area, knowledge in a variety of diverse areas around the world and key features of human and physical geography. Additionally, it will also equip them with key geographical skills that allow them to explore maps, atlases and a wide variety of other geographical resources.
